Economic situation

The digital transformation in society is accelerating, and business environment in OKI continues to change dramatically. On the other hand, these changes are also creating new business opportunities.

In this business environment, OKI has developed its business based on the highly reliable manufacturing technologies that are a strength of the Group. Also, using an installed base and customer base OKI has built up over its history of more than 130 years as the source for creating corporate value, OKI has been working to integrate network, sensing, data processing and analysis technologies to match new needs and expand its business.

Operating results for the fiscal year under review

For the business conditions in the fiscal year under review, the ICT business showed strong progress, and the net sales were ¥457.2 billion, a ¥15.7 billion or 3.6% increase year-on-year. In terms of profits, it was steady partly due to the effects of business structure reforms implemented in the previous fiscal year besides the increased sales. However, besides the forex impact, toward the end of the fiscal year, the COVID-19 spread world-widely, and caused a decline in operation at our Shenzhen-plant. As a result, operating income was ¥16.8 billion, a decrease of ¥0.7 billion year-on-year, and ordinary income was ¥13.8 billion, a decrease of ¥1.7 billion year-on-year.

A gain on sale of property, plant and equipment of ¥4.8 billion along with the reviewing the offices and etc., and a gain on sale of investments in securities of ¥4.7 billion, resulting from reducing cross-shareholdings were recorded for extraordinary profit, while the business structure improvement expenses of ¥2.4 billion related to mainly the business transfer of the Brazilian subsidiary were recorded for the extraordinary loss.

Starting from this fiscal year, the application scope of using the percentage-of-completion method was expanded mainly in the ICT business, resulting in an increase in net sales of ¥10.5 billion, and decreases in operating income of ¥0.1 billion and ordinary income of ¥0.1 billion.

Looking at non-consolidated business performance, net sales were ¥249.2 billion, up ¥33.2 billion (15.4%) from the previous fiscal year. Operating income was ¥4.2 billion, up ¥1.7 billion year-on-year. Ordinary income increased by ¥4.8 billion year-on-year to ¥14.2 billion. Profit was ¥16.9 billion, a ¥8.4 billion up year-on-year.

OKI's top management priorities are to strengthen its financial position and ensure retained earnings in order to continually improve the OKI Group's corporate value, as well as to increase shareholder returns so that shareholders are encouraged to hold its shares over the medium- to long-term. OKI will reinforce its management foundations by applying retained earnings to investments in research & development and facilities that are critical to future growth. In addition, OKI will attach the highest importance to maintaining stable profit distributions to shareholders and decide dividends after taking business performance into consideration. Based on this policy, OKI proposes to pay ¥50 per common stock as a dividend from the surplus (year-end dividend) in the current fiscal year.

(3) Financing

Operating funds and funds for capital expenditures necessary for business activities will be obtained from our own funds, borrowed funds, or other sources. Among these, operating funds are raised through short-term and long-term borrowings. In addition, long-term funds for production facilities, etc. are raised through long-term borrowings. Long-term funds are raised chiefly on fixed interest rates in the forms of separate borrowings from financial and other institutions and syndicated loans.

Some short-term borrowings were refinanced with long-term borrowings for more stable financing during the fiscal year under review. The Company adopted a domestic cash management system, whereby the Company will integrate cash in hand of consolidated subsidiaries into the Company itself to improve the cash efficiency and reduce borrowings.

The Company maintains good business relationships with major partner financial institutions, so recognizes that it will be able to raise necessary operating and investment funds with no problem.

The OKI Group places emphasis on the financial discipline and intends to use free cash flow generated through business activities as basic financial resources and efficiently raise the necessary funds.

(4) Future challenges

Guided by our corporate philosophy of “The people of OKI, true to the company’s “enterprising spirit,” are committed to creating superior network solutions and providing excellent information and communications services globally to meet the diversified needs of communities worldwide in the information age,” the OKI Group aims to resolve social issues through critical Mono-zukuri (the spirit and mind-set to innovate, create and improve products) and Koto-zukuri (working together, proactively seeking opportunities that deliver value to customers).” The OKI Group also hopes to contribute to the achievement of the important guideline of the “Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)” that were adopted at the September 2015 “United Nations Sustainable Development Summit” through our business activities. We shall set our goals on various management issues in order of priority and incorporate them into the Company’s operations.

The market and economic environments surrounding the OKI Group are currently changing dramatically. Globally, such changes include uncertainty including economic fluctuations and conflicts, environmental problems, a spate of natural calamities, and technology innovation including 5G and artificial intelligent. In Japan, noticeable changes are labor shortage, a declining birth rate and a rapidly aging population, and ageing infrastructure. On top of these, the novel coronavirus is likely to cause a paradigm shift, which marks heightened nationalism, changes in individuals’ behavior, and growing demand for contactless services.

It is true that these changes in the settings are seen as a threat to some businesses, but we believe that they also create new needs and bring new business opportunities. For example, a rise in remote work could increase the risk of declining demand for printing services at the office but, at the same time, further increase demand for higher speed and larger capacity of network infrastructure. There is also a demand for the contactless service, which is positioned as one of the equipment and services that companies have been working to develop for automation and manpower saving. As a result, the digital transformation, a megatrend of nowadays, is likely to be accelerated.

In these circumstances, one of our top priorities is to further advance reorganization of our business portfolio currently in progress. More precisely, in the solution business, we will expand our business in growing domains such as the AI Edge Strategy by harnessing the OKI Group’s strengths of device installations in edge regions, where we have been involved in the telecommunications infrastructure business tailoring to the needs of our customers for many years. In the hardware business, developing automated and manpower-saving equipment matching the new needs is key. To this end, we will narrow down existing product-lineups, reallocate development resources, and rebuild the organizational structure itself.

The OKI Group is strong in manufacturing technology (Mono-zukuri) in the real world and network technology that enables to link to cloud services in real time. Based on these technological capabilities, we have the install base of terminals and services supporting our excellent customer base and social infrastructure of various kinds as sources of our corporate value. We will continue to offer solutions to social issues with manufacturing technology (Mono-zukuri) for edge terminals tailored for the customer needs chiefly in the field of social infrastructure on one hand and, on the other, with network technology (Koto-zukuri) for solutions and services that link the real world to the cloud in real time.

(10) Corporate governance

(i) Basic policy

Guided by the corporate philosophy of “The people of OKI, true to the company’s “enterprising spirit,” are committed to creating superior network solutions and providing excellent information and communications services globally to meet the diversified needs of communities worldwide in the information age,” the OKI Group recognizes sustainable growth and increases corporate value over medium- to long-term as its most important management priorities in earning the trust of its various stakeholders. To this end, we are working to enhance corporate governance based on our fundamental policies of “enhancement of management fairness and transparency,” “timely decision-making processes,” and “full compliance and fortification of risk management.”

(ii) Corporate governance structure

As a company with the Audit & Supervisory Board, the Company establishes the Board of Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board and adopts an executive officer system, aiming to promote “timely decision-making processes” by separating business execution and supervision. (b) Reason for selecting the current structure

The Company will continue to seek sustainable growth and increase corporate value from a medium- to long-term viewpoint while recognizing its responsibility to its stakeholders and complying with the aims of the Corporate Governance Code.

To secure the functions of the Board of Directors, the Company selects candidates for Directors in consideration of diversities such as expertise, career and gender, and includes four highly independent Outside Directors (including one female Director) to improve the fairness and transparency of management.

The Board of Directors is chaired by a Director who is mutually appointed, but was chaired by a non-executive Chairman during the fiscal year under review.

The Board of Directors held a total of 14 meetings including special meetings during the fiscal year under review, and the attendance rates of the Outside Directors and Outside Audit & Supervisory Board Members are shown on page 37. To contribute to in-depth discussions at the Board of Directors meetings, outside officers are given materials and explanations in advance by the secretariat of the Board of Directors, etc.

(Translation)

(v) Voluntary committee

The Company has established the Personnel Affairs and Compensation Advisory Committee as a voluntary committee to secure transparency and objectiveness in the decision-making processes concerning appointment and dismissal of Directors and determination of compensation for officers. The Committee is consulted prior to resolutions at a Board of Directors meeting on appointment and dismissal of Directors, Executive Officers, etc. and the structure and level of their compensation, deliberates on these issues from an objective viewpoint, and reports the results to the Board of Directors. In addition, the Committee delivers its opinion on nomination of candidates for Audit & Supervisory Board Members to Audit & Supervisory Board Members. The Committee consists of five members; that is, all the four Outside Directors and the non-executive Chairman. (2) Compensation paid to Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members

(i) Policy on determining remuneration, etc.

As described on page 29, in order to secure transparency and objectiveness in the decision-making processes concerning compensation for officers, the Company has established the Personnel Affairs and Compensation Advisory Committee, which deliberates, prior to resolutions at a Board of Directors meeting, on the structure and level of compensation for directors and executive officers, and reports the results to the Board of Directors. In addition, the appropriateness of the structure and level of compensation is validated mainly utilizing objective evaluation data from external organizations. The Personnel Affairs and Compensation Advisory Committee held a total of 13 meetings during the fiscal year under review, discussed the compensation structure for officers in five meetings, and reported the results three times (concerning annual incentive compensation, medium- to long-term incentive compensation, and revisions to the structure).

OKI's basic policy on compensation for directors and executive officers is to serve as incentives for the performance improvement with the aim of the continuous enhancement of the corporate value and enforcement of the corporate competitiveness while being the compensation structure that can attract excellent human resources.

(Translation)

The compensation structure is divided into performance-linked compensation and compensation other than performance-linked compensation, and consists of basic compensation, annual incentive compensation linked to the performance of each fiscal year, and compensation-type stock option as medium- to long-term incentive compensation as shown in the table below. These compensations have been provided as part of efforts to develop an environment for a shift to the management focused on “more aggressive goal setting” and “growth over medium- to long-term” in order to achieve “continuous growth” of the OKI Group. The compensation for outside directors consists only of basic compensation.

The amounts of compensation approved by the 82nd Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 29, 2006 are within ¥600 million (which do not include employee wages for Directors who are also employees) per year for Directors. The amounts of compensation related to compensation-type stock option, approved by the 92nd Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 24, 2016, are within ¥100 million per year for Directors other than Outside Directors, separately from the above compensation.

Type	Content of compensation
Basic compensation	When serving as Executive Officer concurrently, monetary compensation shall be paid, determined individually tailored to position, followed by duties.
Annual incentive compensation	Monetary compensation shall be paid, determined individually with a linkage with the past year’s consolidated business performance of the OKI Group and that of the division each Director is responsible for. The target amounts related to performance-linked compensation for the fiscal year under review were ¥450 billion for net sales, ¥18.5 billion for operating income, and ¥98.5 billion for working capital. In the actual results, ¥457.2 billion was recorded for net sales, ¥16.8 billion for operating income, and ¥95.6 billion for working capital. The rate of payments is determined within the scope of 0% to 200%, according to a linkage with business performance and the President’s qualitative assessment. The amount of payments is 35% of the basic compensation in case that the rate of payments is 100%.
Medium- to long-term incentive compensation	Stock option for stock-linked compensation shall be granted, around 13% of basic compensation amount, in the view of value sharing with shareholders and the enhancement of corporate value as well as shareholders’ value over the medium- to long-term.

In response to the deliberations and reports of the Personnel Affairs and Compensation Advisory Committee in December 2019, the Board of Directors revised the medium- to long-term incentive compensation to link the performance at a meeting held in March 2020. The revision will become effective in FY2021.

(Translation)

3. Accounting standards

(1) Valuation standards and methods for significant assets

(i) Negotiable securities

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries value securities in accordance with how they are held as indicated below. Overseas consolidated subsidiaries apply the lower of cost or fair value.

Other negotiable securities:

Marketable securities:

Stated at fair value based on the market price at the end of the fiscal year (Any difference between book value and fair value is included in net assets; sales costs are calculated by mainly the moving average method.)

Non-marketable securities:

Mainly stated at cost based on the moving average method

(ii) Inventories

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries evaluate inventories as follows, and overseas consolidated subsidiaries primarily apply the lower of cost or fair value.

Finished goods:

Principally stated at cost based on the moving average method. (Balance sheet values are measured by the method of devaluing the book price to reflect declines in profitability.)

Work in process:

Principally stated at cost based on the specific identification method. (Balance sheet values are measured by the method of devaluing the book price to reflect declines in profitability.)

Raw materials and supplies:

Principally stated at cost based on the moving average method. (Balance sheet values are measured by the method of devaluing the book price to reflect declines in profitability.)

(iii) Derivatives

Stated at fair value

(2) Depreciation and amortization

(i) Property, plant and equipment (excluding lease assets)

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries primarily apply the declining-balance method; overseas consolidated subsidiaries primarily apply the straight-line method.

(ii) Intangible assets (excluding lease assets)

The Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries apply the straight-line method.

For software sold in the market, amortization is based on the estimated amounts of sales in the estimated number of years for sales (3 years). For software for internal use, the straight-line method, based on the estimated durable years (mainly 5 years), is used.

(Translation)

Overseas consolidated subsidiaries primarily apply the straight-line method.

(iii) Lease assets

Lease assets relating to finance lease transactions that do not transfer ownership are depreciated over the lease contract's lifetime by the straight-line method, assuming the residual value is zero.

(3) Basis for provision of reserves

(i) Allowance for doubtful receivables

To prepare for any losses of accounts receivable and loans, the Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries calculate the amount of potential loss by using the historical loss ratio for non-classified loans/receivables and individual assessment for classified loans/receivables. Overseas consolidated subsidiaries calculate the amount of potential losses by individually assessing the possibility of collection for specific loans/receivables.

(ii) Provision for Directors' retirement benefits

Some consolidated subsidiaries register the necessary amount at the end of the year in accordance with internal rules to prepare for the payment of Directors' retirement allowance.

(4) Basis for provision of income and expense

Basis for provision of income relating to contract work and software development contracts

a. Income from those with certain results in progress before the end of the fiscal year

Percentage-of-completion method (The progress ratio of construction is estimated by the cost proportion method.)

b. Other income

Inspection basis (completed-contract method for some domestic consolidated subsidiaries)

(5) Important hedge accounting methods

(i) Method of hedge accounting

Deferred hedging is applied. Allocation treatment is applied for forward exchange contracts eligible for allocation treatment. Special treatment is applied to interest rate swaps that meet requirements for special treatment.

(ii) Means of hedging and coverage

Forward exchange contracts are used to hedge fluctuations of exchange rates on credits and debts in foreign currencies. Interest rate swaps are employed to hedge fluctuations of market interest rates on variable-rate long-term debt.

(iii) Hedging policy

Derivative transactions are used to hedge fluctuations of market rates on credits and debts.

(Translation)

(iv) Assessment method of the effectiveness of hedges

To determine the effectiveness of hedges, the Company compares the accumulated total of market fluctuations or cash flow fluctuations for the targets of hedging and that of the market fluctuations or the cash flow fluctuations for the means of hedging, during the period from the start of hedging to the assessment. The Company then makes a decision based on the changes of the two.

(6) Amortization of goodwill and amortization period

Goodwill is evenly amortized over its useful life (mainly five years).

(7) Other important matters in preparation of consolidated financial statements

(i) Method of accounting for retirement benefits

a. Attributing expected retirement benefits to a period

When calculating retirement benefit obligations, the Company applies the benefit formula basis to attribute expected retirement benefits to the period until the end of the fiscal year under review.

b. Accounting for actuarial gains and losses, and prior service costs

Prior service costs are amortized by the straight-line method over a set number of years (10 to 13 years) within the average remaining years of service of employees.

Actuarial gains and losses are amortized by the straight line method over a set number of years (10 to 13 years) within the average remaining years of service of employees at the time of their accrual in each fiscal year. Amortization of such gains and losses is deemed to be effective from the year after the one in which they arise.

(ii) Accounting processing of consumption tax

The tax-exclusion method is used for accounting of consumption tax and local consumption tax.

(iii) Application of consolidated tax payment

The consolidated tax payment is applied.

(iv) Application of deferred tax accounting for the transition from the consolidated taxation system to the group tax sharing system

As for items regarding the transition to the group tax sharing system introduced in the “Act Partially Amending the Income Tax Act” (Act No. 8 of 2020) and items revised on non-consolidated taxation system in connection with the transition to the group tax sharing system, the Company and consolidated subsidiaries in Japan have not applied the provisions of Paragraph 44 of the “Guidance on Accounting Standard for Tax Effect Accounting” (ASBJ Guidance No. 28, February 16, 2018) as allowed by the provisions of Paragraph 3 of the “Tax Effect Accounting for the Transition from the Consolidated Taxation System to the Group Tax Sharing System” (ASBJ PITF No. 39, March 31, 2020). Accordingly, amounts of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are determined in accordance with the provisions of the tax law before revision.

Notes on Changes in Accounting Policies

Overseas consolidated subsidiaries, excluding those in the U.S., began applying IFRS 16 Leases effective from the beginning of the fiscal year under review. As a result of applying these accounting standards, property, plant and equipment increased ¥2,285 million, lease obligations under current liabilities increased ¥1,010 million, lease obligations under long-term liabilities increased ¥1,635 million and retained earnings decreased ¥533 million in the consolidated balance sheet for the fiscal year under review.

The impact of this change on profit and loss for the fiscal year under review is immaterial.

Additional Information

1. Request for arbitration by a consolidated subsidiary

Oki Banking Systems (Shenzhen) Co., Ltd., an OKI Group consolidated subsidiary, has filed a request for arbitration against Shenzhen Yihua Computer Industrial Co., Ltd. on October 10, 2015, demanding payment of accounts receivable of RMB1,115,463 thousand (¥17,066 million if converted to Japanese yen based on the exchange rate as of the end of the fiscal year under review) and compensation of damages. Currently, the South China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission continues to review the matter.

In consideration of the status of litigation, since the period for collecting the receivables is expected to lengthen, an allowance for doubtful receivables of ¥10,279 million was recorded at the end of the fiscal year under review.

2. Expanded application of the percentage-of-completion method

Previously, the percentage-of-completion method was applied for the work whose outcome from the completed portion was deemed definite and the completed-contract method was applied for other work. In conjunction with the measures to develop and enhance the cost management system, since the fiscal year under review, the percentage-of-completion method has also been applied to some of this other work because it became possible to reliably estimate the work.

As a result, for the fiscal year under review, net sales increased ¥10,487 million, and operating income, ordinary income and profit before income taxes decreased ¥85 million each.

Notes on Financial Instruments

1. Matters concerning the status of financial instruments

(1) Policy on financial instruments

The OKI Group mainly uses short-term deposits and highly safe marketable securities for fund management, and raises its funds primarily through borrowings from financial institutions and issuance of corporate bonds. The Group uses derivatives to hedge risk as described below, and does not engage in speculative transactions.

(2) Description of financial instruments, related risks, and risk management system

The Group strives to mitigate its customers' credit risks associated with notes and accounts receivable, which are operating receivables, by carrying out customer credit investigations in accordance with regulations for the management of accounts receivable of individual companies.

For borrowings, the Group raises short-term funds mainly for working capital and long-term funds for working capital and capital investment. For borrowings exposed to the interest rate risk, the Group applies derivative instruments (interest rate swap transactions) to hedge its risk.

Derivative transactions consist of forward foreign exchange contracts, which aim to hedge exchange rate fluctuation risks related to foreign currency-denominated receivables and payables, and interest rate swap transactions, which aim to hedge interest rate fluctuation risks related to the payment of borrowings. The assessment of hedge effectiveness for interest rate swap transactions that satisfy the requirements for special treatment is omitted.

The Group executes and manages derivative transactions in accordance with OKI Group's policy.

(3) Supplemental explanation regarding the disclosure concerning fair value of financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments is based on market prices, but if no market prices are available, their fair value reflects the value reasonably calculated. Because fluctuation factors are incorporated into the calculation of the said value, it may change if different prerequisites, etc. are used.

(Translation)

2. Disclosure concerning fair value of financial instruments

As of March 31, 2020 (consolidated balance sheet date), the amount recorded in the consolidated balance sheet, fair value, and the amount of differences are as shown in the table below. Any item whose fair value is deemed extremely difficult to assess is excluded from the table. (See Note 2.)

(Unit: Millions of yen)

(8) Long-term debt (*3)	(56,324)	(56,634)	310
(9) Derivative transactions	375	375	–

(*1) Those recorded as liabilities are shown within brackets.

(*2) Allowance for doubtful receivables specifically provided for long-term trade receivables is deducted.

(*3) Long-term debt (¥14,014 million) that will be reimbursed within one year are classified as “short-term” borrowings in the consolidated balance sheet.

Notes:

1. Disclosure concerning methods of calculation of fair value of financial instruments, securities and derivative transactions

(1) Cash and deposits and (2) Notes and accounts receivable

These items are settled over a short period of time and their fair value is virtually equal to their book value. Hence, their fair value is based on the relevant book value.

(3) Investments in securities

The fair value of investments in securities is based on their prices determined at the financial instruments exchanges, and the fair value of bonds is based on the quotations offered by the correspondent financial institution.

(4) Long-term trade receivables

Fair value of long-term trade receivables is based on the amount after deducting the present estimated doubtful receivables from the book value as estimated doubtful receivables are calculated based on the present value of loans / receivables.

(5) Notes and accounts payable, (6) Short-term borrowings, and (7) Other accrued expenses

These items are settled over a short period of time and their fair value is virtually equal to their book value. Hence, their fair value is based on the relevant book value.

(8) Long-term debt

The fair value of these items is based primarily on the method of calculation whereby the sum of principal and interest is discounted by an assumed interest rate on the assumption that the said sum is freshly borrowed in a similar manner. Some long-term debt with floating interest rates are prescribed to be subject to special accounting treatment applicable to interest rate swaps (see (9) below). Hence, the fair value of a long-term debt is based on the method of calculation whereby the sum of principal and interest, treated in combination with the said interest rate swap, is discounted by a reasonably estimable interest rate on the assumption that the said amount is freshly borrowed in a similar manner.

(9) Derivative transactions

Derivative transactions subject to special accounting treatment applicable to interest rate swaps are treated in combination with long-term debt as hedged items. Hence, their fair value is included in that of long-term debt.

(Translation)

2. Financial instruments whose fair value is considered extremely difficult to assess

Unlisted equity securities (¥8,284 million on the consolidated balance sheet) are not included in (3) Investments in securities because they have no market price and it is deemed extremely difficult to assess their fair values.

Significant Subsequent Event

Business Separation

In June 2019, in order to transfer its financial and retail services businesses to NCR Brasil Ltda. (NCR Brasil), a Brazilian subsidiary of NCR Corporation (NCR), OKI BRASIL INDÚSTRIA E COMÉRCIO DE PRODUTOSE E TECNOLOGIA EM AUTOMAÇÃO S.A. (OKI Brasil), a consolidated subsidiary of the Company, and NCR reached an agreement on a company split of OKI Brasil and transfer of the shares of the newly established company. All shares of the new company were transferred on April 9, 2020.

1. Reason for the share transfer

OKI Brasil has implemented fundamental structural reforms aimed at improving profitability, but the Company has concluded that it will be difficult for OKI Brasil to independently expand its business in the future in order to improve profitability, given changes in the business environment.

In addition, since the previous fiscal year, the Company has been reviewing its strategies for developing its overseas Mechatronics Systems business in order to focus on supplying modules to its partners.

Based on the above, the Company considered further development of OKI Brasil in the future and determined that it would be most appropriate to transfer the business to the NCR Group, which has many years of experience in the field and is expected to generate synergies.

Upon completion of the transaction, the Company will supply NCR Brasil with modules for the Brazilian market.

2. Name of the transferee of the shares

NCR Brasil Ltda.

3. Share transfer date

April 9, 2020

4. Outline of the subsidiary company

Purpose of use	Location	Type of assets	Amount (millions of yen)
Company-owned house	Saitama, Saitama Pref.	Land	730
		Other assets	93

Regarding business assets, the Group basically sets up asset groups based on business segments. However, if certain business assets (e.g. assets to be disposed of) are considered to independently create cash flows, they are grouped by asset.

As the Company decided to sell the company-owned house subject to an impairment loss, its book value was reduced to the recoverable value in the fiscal year under review. The recoverable value of the said asset was measured at net sales value.

Audit opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements – the consolidated balance sheet, the consolidated statement of operations, the consolidated statement of changes in net assets equity and notes to the consolidated financial statements – of Oki Electric Industry Co., Ltd. for the 96th term from April 1, 2019 to March 31, 2020 in accordance with Article 444 paragraph (4) of the Companies Act.

We concluded that the consolidated financial statements fairly present in all aspects of Oki Electric Industry's and its subsidiaries' assets and income or loss in accordance with corporate accounting standards generally accepted in Japan.

Basis for audit opinion

We have conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Responsibility of auditors for the audit of the consolidated financial statements" section of our report. We are independent of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Japan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of management, Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board for preparing consolidated financial statements

Oki Electric Industry's management is responsible for preparing and presenting fairly these consolidated financial statements in accordance with corporate accounting standards generally accepted in Japan. This includes designing and operating internal control that the management determines necessary to prepare and fairly present these consolidated financial statements that are without material misstatement due to fraud or errors.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing whether it is appropriate to prepare the consolidated financial statements with the assumption of a going concern, and in accordance with corporate accounting standards generally accepted in Japan, for disclosing, as necessary, matters related to going concern.

Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board are responsible for overseeing the Directors' performance of duties within the maintenance and operation of the financial reporting process.

Responsibility of auditors for the audit of the consolidated financial statements

Our responsibilities are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that expresses our opinion on the consolidated financial statements based on our audit from an independent point of view. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the decisions of users of these consolidated financial statements.

In accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit process to perform the following:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Selecting audit procedures to be applied is at the discretion of the auditor. Obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
- When auditing the consolidated financial statements, obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances in making risk assessments, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.

(Translation)

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used by management and their method of application, as well as the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management and the appropriateness of related notes thereto.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of preparing the consolidated financial statements with the assumption of a going concern by management, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the notes to the consolidated financial statements or, if the notes to the consolidated financial statements on material uncertainty are inadequate, to express a qualified opinion with exceptions on the consolidated financial statements. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate whether the presentation of the consolidated financial statements and notes to the consolidated financial statements are in accordance with corporate accounting standards generally accepted in Japan, as well as evaluate the presentation, structure, and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the related notes thereto, and whether the consolidated financial statements fairly present the underlying transactions and accounting events.
- Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the consolidated financial statements. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We report to the Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit process, and other matters required by auditing standards.

We also provide the Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements in Japan regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be deemed to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards in order to eliminate or reduce obstruction factors.

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Standards and valuation methods for negotiable securities

(The difference between book value and fair value is included in net assets.

The sale cost is calculated by using the moving average method.)

Non-marketable securities: Stated at cost based on the moving average method

2. Standards and valuation methods for derivatives

Derivatives: Stated at fair value

3. Standards and valuation methods for inventories

Finished goods: Stated at cost based on the moving average method (Balance sheet values are measured by the method of devaluing the book price to reflect declines in profitability.)

Work in process: Stated at cost based on the specific identification method (Balance sheet values are measured by the method of devaluing the book price to reflect declines in profitability.)

Raw materials and supplies:

Stated at cost based on the moving average method (Balance sheet values are measured by the method of devaluing the book price to reflect declines in profitability.)

5. Basis for provision of reserves

Allowance for doubtful receivables

To prepare for any losses on accounts receivable and loans, the Company calculates the amount of potential loss by using the historical loss ratio in the case of non-classified loans/receivables and by individual assessment in the case of classified loans/receivables.

Provision for product warranties

To prepare for the expenses caused by free repairs that occur after product sales, the Company includes a provision for product warranties based on past performance or individual estimates.

Provision for directors' bonuses

To prepare for the payment of bonuses to officers (includes Executive Officers, the same applies below), the Company records the amount attributable to the current fiscal year out of the amount of bonuses expected to be paid to officers.

Provision for loss on construction contracts

To prepare for any losses on construction contracts, the estimated amount of losses for the following fiscal years are calculated for some of the orders backlog as of the end of the fiscal year under review, which are likely to incur losses and for which the amounts thereof can be reasonably estimated.

Provision for contingent loss

To prepare for losses that may occur in the future, the Company includes a provision for contingency losses rationally calculated based on individual risks, etc.

Provision for loss on Anti-Monopoly Act

To prepare for any losses relating to the Anti-Monopoly Act, the estimated amount for the current fiscal year end is recorded.

Retirement benefits

To prepare for payment of retirement benefits to employees, the Company records the amount recognized to accrue at the end of the fiscal year based on the estimated values of retirement benefit obligations and pension assets.

Prior service cost is amortized by the straight-line method over a certain number of years (13 years) within the average remaining years of service of employees.

The actuarial difference is amortized proportionately using the straight-line method over a certain number of years (13 years) within the average remaining service period of the employees from the fiscal year after the one in which it arises.

Provision for loss on business of subsidiaries and affiliates

In order to prepare for a loss on business of subsidiaries and affiliates, the Company records the amount of expected loss to bear in consideration of the financial position, operating results, etc. of these companies.

6. Hedge accounting methods

(1) Method of hedge accounting

Deferred hedging is applied. Allocation treatment is applied for forward exchange contracts eligible for allocation treatment. Special treatment is applied to interest rate swaps that meet the requirements for special treatment.

(2) Means of hedging and hedged item

Forward exchange contracts are used to hedge fluctuations of exchange rates on credits and debts in foreign currencies. Interest rate swaps are employed to hedge fluctuations of market interest rates on variable-rate and long-term debt.

(3) Hedging policy

Derivative instruments are used to hedge fluctuations of market rates on credits and debts.

(4) Assessment method of hedging effectiveness

To determine the effectiveness, the Company compares the accumulated total of the market fluctuations or the cash flow fluctuations for the hedged item and that of the market fluctuations or the cash flow fluctuations for the means of hedging, during the period from the start of hedging to the assessment. The Company then makes a decision based on the changes of the two.

7. Other important matters in preparation of non-consolidated financial statements

(1) Accounting for retirement benefits

The methods of accounting for unappropriated amounts of unrecognized prior service costs and unrecognized actuarial gains and losses for retirement benefits differ from those in the consolidated financial statements.

(2) Accounting processing of consumption tax

The tax-exclusion approach is applied for accounting of consumption tax and local consumption tax.

(3) Application of consolidated tax payments

Consolidated tax payments are applied.

(4) Application of deferred tax accounting for the transition from the consolidated taxation system to the group tax sharing system

As for items regarding the transition to the group tax sharing system introduced in the “Act Partially Amending the Income Tax Act” (Act No. 8 of 2020) and items revised on non-consolidated taxation system in connection with the transition to the group tax sharing system, the Company has not applied the provisions of Paragraph 44 of the “Guidance on Accounting Standard for Tax Effect Accounting” (ASBJ Guidance No. 28, February 16, 2018) as allowed by the provisions of Paragraph 3 of the “Tax Effect Accounting for the Transition from the Consolidated Taxation System to the Group Tax Sharing System” (ASBJ PITF No. 39, March 31, 2020). Accordingly, amounts of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are determined in accordance with the provisions of the tax law before revision.
