Together with Oki Customer Adtech Co., Ltd. and Oki Network Integration Co., Ltd., we supported the announcement event for the All-Japan School Biotope Contest 2005, which was held at the National Institution for of Youth Education on February 11. Using Oki's live video streaming system "LiveOnAir" and the internet, we offered a live broadcast of the announcement event to the regional offices of Oki Customer Adtech, allowing children and their parents from participating schools who were not able to participate to view the pictures. The videos taken are further used for the spread of school biotopes.
