The extra impact of colour – with no extra cost for mono printing

Professional quality printing solution for the financial and legal sectors

The challenge

Many organisations in the financial and legal sectors restrict themselves to mono printers, because most documents – from correspondence to contracts - are printed in black and white. But colour is needed in financial documents as well, for example when sending payment reminders or highlighting figures in red in company results.

The solution

The latest generation of OKI's colour printers can provide the cost-effective solution to all print needs from a single compact, reliable device. They deliver crisp quality mono at the same low cost as a mono device - plus stunning colour whenever the task requires it.

OKI's printers use digital LED technology and microfine HD toner. It's a unique combination that allows them to combine cost effective mono print and superior colour that's brighter, sharper and always full of impact. A single OKI printer can take care of all print needs.
